Funeral of Dr. Pritchard. News and Observer.

Rev. Dr. Charles E. Taylor, president of Wake Forest College, passed through Raleigh yesterday returning from Charlotte, where he attended the funeral of the late Dr. T. H. Pritchard.

The funeral was held in the church of which Dr. Pritchard was pastor at five o'clock Sinday afternoon. After a voluntary by the choir, Rev. L. R. Pruett offered an invocation. The hymn, "Servant of God, well done," was sung. O. L. Stringfield read the Scripture lesson, Rev. Dr. John R. Brooks, the Methodist Presiding Elder of Chur lotte District, offered prayer. A touching and appropriate solo was rendered by a member of the choir. Then followed the address on the life and character of the dead minister. Dr. Taylor made the principal address, and was followed by Dr. Preston, pastor of the Presbyterian church; Dr. Bowman, pastur of the Lutheran church; and Dr. Hoffman, pastor of the Episcopal church. Rev. H. L. Atkins offered prayer. The choir sang, "Asleep in Jesus." Minor parts in the service were taken by Rev. S. T. Turrentine and Rev. Mr. Hawkins . "The growd that gathered, said Dr. Taylor, "would have filled the church three times over. The floral offerings were numerous, and the most beautiful I have ever seen."

A'New Dog Story.

"Dog stories are usnally regarded as chestruts," said A. P. Beckwith of Indianapolis at the Riggs. "It would seem that at some time or another dogs have been known to perform almost every act their masters have. But I never heard the coun terpart of a story I know to be true. A fine St. Ber nard dog was injured by a street car on North Illinois street in Indianapolis, and his owner took him to a veterinary surgeon, who derseed the wounds and gave instructions to bring the animal the following morning. Before breakfast the dog went to the office of the surgeon and waited on the doorstep until he arrived. Every morning the dog appeared before his master arose, and one day a bandage used around one of the animals for elegaslipped, and the dog, realizing that something was wrong went to the office in the middle of the day to have it fixed. It took about two weeks for the injuries to heal, at the end of which time the dog ceased his visits, but has always since greeted the veterinarian affectionately whenever he sees him."

"John, I think I should like to visit my old home in the East a month or two this summer."

"I don't know Maria. I'm araid I can't spare the time from my business.'

I'm not asking you to go. John. I can make the trip my self without any trouble."

"You would get homesick, if you were to stay away from home as long as that."

"I think not. I should like to try it, anyhow."

"What is the matter with you Maria?" irritably. "Haven't] been a good husband?"

"I'm act making any complaint about you John, am I?' "Ain't I affectionate enough? Haven't I always kissed you when I went away from home in the morning and when I came back in the evening every day for the last 25 years?"

"Yes, and you've had a chew of plug tobacco in your mouth every morning and evening for the last 25 years, too. I think I want a vacation, John "

Waiting for the Cat to Jumpa

What is the matter now, politically speaking, is that too many men are just waiting to see which way the cat is going to jump. They want to know which is going to be the popular side. "There is said check is accepted in full paysafety in numbers," is their motto. It is the motto of the fool. An honest mar Dellaplane, N. C. though living in a world of regues will be honest still The man who is good just because those around him are good is a mighty little fellow. And the man whose convictions in politics go with the biggest crowd is not a good citizen. But we have them and lots of them. They are now waiting to see which way the cat jumps. -Monroe Enquirer.
